ENGLISH COAL STRIKE IS FINALLY SETTLED

BIG INDUSTRIAL CRISIS BECOMES BRITISH HISTORY

Conference Reaches Agreement Between Owners and Workers.

COST IS ENORMOUS

Business Stagnation Resulted in Two and Half Billion Dollar Loss

London, June 28.—The national coal strike which had been in effect since April 1, was settled today. Official announcement to this effect was made following the second conference of the federation of miners and the colliery owners at the government board of trade office.

This conference had been arranged by Premier Lloyd George and the government was represented.

Upwards of 1,200,000 men were involved in the national coal strike. It had precipitated the worst industrial crisis in the history of Great Britain.

Officials of the Federation of Miners made two attempts to bring about a general strike in sympathy with the miners, but both failed.

It is estimated that the coal strike cost Great Britain in wages, loss of production and general business stagnation at least $2,500,000,000.

Industry has been paralyzed for many weeks and train schedules curtailed to a minimum. There was less suffering than would have resulted if the strike had taken place in the winter time. The country has been going through an unprecedented hot wave when coal was needed only as industrial fuel.

Government officials were elated over the settlement. They declared that the labor atmosphere will clear rapidly and that normal conditions may be expected within a few weeks.

Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons today that an agreement had been reached between the strikers and the colliery owners and that the men would return to work at once. The news was received with cheers and there was the utmost rejoicing throughout the whole country.

It was learned later that Premier Lloyd George would ask parliament to sanction a renewal of the subsidy offer of ten million pounds sterling.
This offer had been made previously on condition that the strike was settled within a certain length of time but the time limit passed without a settlement.

The subsidy was to be applied to the men's wages so that the wage reduction which the mine owners insist is necessary can be carried out gradually.

CONFUSION ATTENDS NEW CURB MARKET

New York, June 28.—Considerable confusion attended the official opening of the new curb market exchange here today. Heretofore, the curb market transacted its business in the open on Broad street. Today the exchange moved into its new spacious quarters on Trinity street. An official curb ticker was placed in operation but few of the traders knew what the abbreviations signified and as a result it was nearly impossible to get any quotations.

Trading was quite active during the first hour and then turned dull.

Disabled Veterans Are Told Claims Not Yet Determined

Six Hundred World War Soldiers Attend Convention at Detroit—Hospital Accommodations Far From Adequate Speaker Declares.

Detroit, June 28.—Although 614,000 men and women were disabled by reason of their service in the world war, and 550,000 of these have filed claims with the war risk department, less than 300,000 have been determined, Judge Robert S.
Marx, told six hundred delegates to the disabled American veterans of the world war, at the opening session of a four day convention here today.

"To relieve the condition of this great mass of persons is our common aim," the judge said. "State and national governments individual committees have pledged their utmost to aid those disabled in the war. We now look for the entire redemption of these pledges."

In concluding his address Judge Marx declared that more than 10-

TETLOW APPOINTED INDUSTRIAL HEAD

Columbus, June 28.—Governor Davis has appointed Captain Percy Tetlow, Columbiana county, director of industrial relations, effective July 1. Captain Tetlow, born 46 years ago at Leetonia, is a former member of the Ohio house of representatives and is statistician for the United Mine Workers of America.

He was a member of the Ohio constitutional convention in 1912.
The following year he was a memcompensation act. He is the author of the law decreeing the eight hour

He was a private in the Spanish-American war and captained the fighting overseas during the world war.

Excepting the motion picture censor board, all divisions of the state industrial department will be placed under the direction of Director Tetlow.

URBANA UNIVERSITY IS AWARDED $300,000

Urbana, June 28.—Urbana University is now assured of a $300,000 endowment fund, one large enough to put the college on a high plane of efficiency and attractiveness as a place of learning. This was reported by W. F. Ring who returned from Cambridge, Mass., Friday night after having gone there as a delegate to the New Church convention. Rev. Warren Goddard, head master of the university, was also a delegate but will spend the summer in Boston and did not return.

new page was turned in naval history today when army and navy air forces combined to locate and ating towards the coast for an offenments after his wife's body was found hanging in her home, Peter Tomich was placed under arrest pending further inquiry by police.

Officers called at the house claim they found the wife had been strangled with a clothes line. Tomich asserts she had been despondent for several weeks and took her own life.

Coroner Kent, called to the scene by the officers declared Mrs. Tomich had been rendered unconscious by three blows on the head before being strangled.

ecutrix for A. A. Strauss, of North

HITCH IN IRISH PEACE PROGRAM NOW DEVELOPS

Sinn Fein Insist That Referendum Will be Necessary.

HELD BY OATH

Believed That Invitation Will Ultimately Be Accepted

London, June 28.—Close advisers of Premier Lloyd George were today informally notified by Dublin Sinn Fein leaders that Dail Eireann (Sinn Fein parliament) probably will decide that a referendum is necessary before Eamonn DeValera accepts Premier Lloyd George's invitation to go to London for an Irish peace conference.

It was said that a referendum might be necessary because the Sinn Fein officials believe that they must be relieved of their oath to the Irish republic before entering negotiations with England. This oath, which administered on June 13, pledges all Sinn Feiners to allegiance to the Irish republic and to have no dealings whatsoever with "enemy countries."

DeValera continues to hold conversations with other republican officials and it is understood he visited Mount Joy prison Monday and talked with Arthur Griffith, president of the Sinn Fein. Dublin dispatches say that DeValera refuses to talk for publication and that he will have nothing to say until his reply is sent to London later in the week.

The reply is expected in this city either tomorrow or Thursday. It may be non-committal but in that event probably will promise a second reply later on. It is confidently believed that the Sinn Fein ultimately will accept the premier's invitation and that DeValera will come here accompanied by three colleagues. The conference will be held at 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence.

British troops are being held in readiness for the opening of the southern parliament in Dublin which corresponds to the northern parliament in Belfast that was opened by King George last week.

Word has been received in Dublin of the acceptance of the premier's invitation by the Ulsterites, but there was no comment on it.

TURKS ONLY 50 MILES FROM CAPITOL

Constantinople, June 28.—The Turkish nationalist troops that have been engaged in battle with Greeks at Ismid are less than 50 miles from Constantinople, according to dispatches from the battle front today.

The Turks entered Ismid, an important town on the sea of Narmora on Sunday morning. Towards evening the Greeks with the help of strong reinforcements recaptured the place but the Greek commander said they merely intended to hold it until the Greek refugees in Ismid could embark upon ships.

Airplane Squadrons Search For "Enemy" Ship off Coast being used as an "enemy" in a war game and for the first time combined army and navy aircraft are serving as defenses to repel the "enemy" attack.

At the zero hour today, the Iowa located at an unknown point within a zone between 50 and 100 miles off the coast between Cape Hatteras and Cape Henlopen, steamed shoreward at a maximum speed.
Not a blue jacket was aboard the ship when she got under way and no human hand controlled her from the bridge but her course and speed were directed entirely by the eerie hand of electricity, by radio waves sent out from the battleship Ohio, which was five miles to the stern of the uncanny "enemy."

When the zero hour came and the Iowa set sail from an unknown point, squadron after squadron of airplanes left the shore stations in search of the "enemy" vessel. Light scouting planes, heavy bombers and air boats joined and spread fan like in the skies, sweeping eastward for a distance of 100 miles off shore to search for the Iowa. Four great grey army "blimps" joined in the search battling slowly against the Atlantic winds while their speedier sisters swept along seaward.

As soon as the first airplane "spots" the Iowa the signal will be flashed by radio to every other ship in the air and on the surface and the forces of the air will assemble by divisions and proceed to attack the "enemy" in accordance with orders issued by Radio from Captain A. W. Johnson on board the U. S.
S. Shamut. The surface craft will move towards the Iowa to stand by and watch the attack.

DISCOVERS NEW CONTINENT IN THE ANTARCTIC ZONE

Dr. Cope, the head of the British Antarctic Expedition, who has, according to a dispatch received at Vancouver, B. C., discovered a new continent in the Antarctic. It is described as rich in minerals, oils, furs, and strange birds of immense size, as well as seals, sea leopards and gorgeous emperor penguins inhabit this land beyond Terra del Fuego.
The area of this new continent, lying at the "bottom of the earth," has not yet been computed.

VIOLENT RIOTS IN FIUME TAKE TOLL OF LIVES

Trouble Follows Downfall of the Giolitti Cabinet

HOLD MASS MEETING

Protest Made Against Policies of Count Sporza.

Rome, June 28.—Violent disorders, in which five persons have been killed and ten wounded, have broken out at Fiume following the downfall of the Giolitti cabinet, said advices from that city today.

Before news of the resignation of the cabinet reached Fiume a mass meeting was held to protest against the policies of Count Sporza, the foreign minister. Speakers attacked the count declaring he had given Italy the worst of the bargain in settling the Fiume troubles.

Arditi occupied Porto Baros, which belongs to Jugoslavia. Car-abinieri were sent to dislodge the Arditi forces.

After a sharp skirmish the car-abinieri were successful. Later a group of Fascisti attempted to reach Porto Baros but were turned back.

KABER CASE IN CLEVELAND NOW BEFORE COURT

Special Venire of Sixty Men and Women Await Call.

EXPECT DIFFICULTY

Selection of Jury to be Troublesome Affair, it Is Believed.

Court House, Cleveland, O., June 28.—The defense will challenge the array of jurors summoned for duty in the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, alleged murderess of her husband, this morning, upon the ground that women are not qualified to act as jurors under the laws and constitution of Ohio. Francis W.
Poulson announced this morning.

Cleveland, O., June 28.—With a special venire of sixty men and women awaiting call to jury duty the case of the state of Ohio against Eva Catherine Kaber, alleged murderess of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy publisher at his suburban home, opened before Judge Maurice Bernon in common pleas court here this morning.

It is expected that this venire will be exhausted today without securing a jury, but Judge Bernon predicts that the selection of a jury, despite the wide publicity given the case, will not take more than four days, and that the presentation of testimony can begin next Monday.

Contrary to general expectation, the state, unless a last minute shift in plans is made, will not call any of Mrs. Kaber's co-defendants as witnesses against her. Instead reliance will be placed upon the sworn admissions secured at various times from every person now under arrest and indictment.

Those indicted with Mrs. Kaber and now under arrest are: Mrs. Mary Brickel, 69, her mother; Marian Mc-Ardle, 19, her daughter by a former marriage; Mrs. Erminia Colavita, alleged "poison queen," and procurer of the two men who stabbed Kaber on his sick bed, and Salvatore Cala, held as one of the actual killers of Ka-ber. Vittoria Pisselli, the other alleged slayer, is still at large, although under indictment.

JIMMY BLANGY WILL BE BROUGHT TO LOCAL COURT

Probation Officer Joseph Watts, went to Columbus Tuesday morning, to get Jimmy Blangy, aged ten, who shot and killed his brother, Virgil, aged eight, at Cedarville several weeks ago, and has been under the examination of Dr. H. H. Goddard of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research for two weeks.

The officer will probably return with the boy Tuesday afternoon and he will be kept at the County Jail all night, and arraigned before Juvenile Judge J. Carl Marshall, as a delinquent Wednesday morning. Judge Marshall already has the report of Dr. Goddard on the result of the mental tests given the boy, and Judge Marshall's decision will be influenced somewhat by the findings of the specialist as to the boy's mentality.

WILL DISPOSE OF SCHOOL BIDS IN NEXT FEW DAYS

Disposition of the bids for construction of the new high schools to be erected here, will probably be decided upon with in the next day or two, according to John R. Beacham, business manager of the schools.

The bids were received and opened two weeks ago, and were taken to Dayton by the architects, Pretzinger and Musselman, of that city, for tabulation.

The tabulated bids were considered by the members of the Board at a recent meeting, but no definite letting of contracts was agreed upon. The contracts will probably be let however, within a day or two, according to Mr. Beacham, insuring a start on the actual construction work this summer.

At the meeting of the board, the Stiles Company was awarded the contract for furnishing coal to the schools next winter. The contract calls for 600 tons of coal. The other bidders for the coal were the Walker Company and the Ledbetter Coal Company.

SERIOUS RAILWAY CRISIS MAY SOON CONFRONT U. S.

PIRATES BELIEVED TO HAVE CAUGHT HIS BIG SHIP.

Captain Willis B. Wormell, of the schooner Carroll A. Deering, of Portsmouth, Maine. The vessel of which he was in command, was found, sails all set off the coast of North Carolina. Not a trace of any member of the crew has as yet been discovered. Miss Lulu Wormell is responsible for the investigation, now world wide into the mysterious disappearance of twenty vessels, of which no trace has been had since January 1. It is believed that pirates boarded the vessel and then ran her ashore.

WASHINGTON WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED AT BIG PRIZE FIGHT

Cabinet Members and Other Government Officials to be Present.

Washington, June 28.—Official Washington is going to be heavily represented—unofficially—when Jack Dempsy and Georges Carpentier clamber through the ropes at Jersey City next Saturday, it appeared today.

At least one and probably several members of the cabinet are going to be at the ringside and the house and senate will have almost a quorum scattered throughout Tex Rickard's big arena.

One congressman alone has a block of fifty seats in A and B sections and will take a party of 49 guests to the battle on a special car leaving Washington early Saturday morning. Several other congressmen have smaller parties arranged and from indications today it appeared that the Hill is not going to do much functioning on Saturday. Many members have "engagements" out of town over the week end and will leave Friday night. Saturday afternoon wont find them far away from Boyles' thirty acres.

Most of those going are not advertising their good fortune. Of course its legal and all that and "this is free country; but you know it is"— there are constituents who don't look at it in a "broad minded way" and, well, "what's the use of inviting trouble?"

It is probable too that many of the foreign embassies and legations will be represented at the ringside on Saturday. They've got no constituents and they don't care who knows they're going.

President Harding will be in Jersey on Saturday as the guest of Senator Frelinghuysen at his home but will not go near Jersey City, so far as is known.

But Washington is going to be a dead place next Saturday. That much is certain.

VETERANS DEMAND CONTROL OF WORK

Washington, June 28.—"Take the direction of soldier relief work out of the hands of school teachers, labor agitators and impractical theorists and place it in the hands of the disabled veterans themselves, who understand the needs of the soldiers."

This was the keynote sounded today by hundreds of disabled veterans of the world war when they gathered here for the first annual convention of the national disabled soldiers league. The veterans are going to drive hard at official Washington this week to bring about the accomplishment of this aim.

DECLINES TO ACT

Chancellor Eugene Stevenson on the motion of the international reform bureau to stop the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

pointment of State Highway

WAGE REDUCTION MAY RESULT IN GENERAL STRIKE

Shopmen Overwhelmingly Opposed to Announced Cuts.

AFFECTS 600,000 MEN

Fifty Per Cent of Rail Employes are Workers in Shops.

Chicago, June 28.—With the vote of he railway shopmen overwhelmingly opposed to acceptance of a wage reduction of 85 to 77 cents an hour, as ordered by the United States Railway Labor board railway circles became alarmed that the nation might be confronted with a serious railway crisis within a fortnight. The shops crafts voted 48, 000 in favor of acceptance of the wage slash, with 385,000 opposed to it.

Unofficial report of the trend of the vote in the four railway brotherhoods indicated the wage slash, amounting generally to 12 per cent and effective July 1, was not popular and that brotherhood chiefs might be asked to call a strike. It is understood the brotherhood chiefs themselves are against a strike.

The vote of the shopmen actually affects about 600,000 railway workers or about half of those employed by all railway systems in the country. The remainder of the men—the clerks, switchmen, engineers, conductors and trainmen—have left final action regarding a strike to a committee of their officers and various chairmen of divisions. They will meet here next Friday to canvass the situation. It is pointed out that even should the workers general committee recommend acceptance of the wage cut the shop craft employes vote against it scarcely can be ignored. The employes as a whole, have agreed to abide by a majority action, and the shopmen represent half or more, of the total railwaymen.

The result of the shopman's vote was tabulated in the office of B. M.
Jewell, president of the railway employed division of the American Federation of Labor.

Labor officials are declared to be doing all they can to prevent a nation wide rail walkout. They fear the disastrous effect it would have on the country's already crippled economic life.

Financially it is pointed out, the railwaymen are scarcely in readiness for a strike. A strike benefit fund of some $20,000,000 has been accumulated during the past three years by the men, but with 1,200, 000 men drawing only a weekly benefit of $10 from it the war fund would last only a couple of weeks.

Should the wage cut be rejected by the workers and their allies, both the union leaders and the railways will be armed with powerful weapons to be used in further negotiations. The railways would have the backing of the board while the union chiefs would be in a position to flourish the strike club.

A new development in the situation concerns the possible abrogation of the national working agreement which was to be effective next Friday under the U. S. Railway board's direction. Many of the roads will be unable to reach agreements with employes by July 1 on rules submitted for the national code.

AKRON JUDGE IS BADLY INJURED

Cleveland, June 28.—Judge T. A.
Treaseh, of Akron, has both legs broken; Mrs. Treaseh sustained injuries of the right foot, and G. W. Stacey also of Akron, is badly bruised upon the forehead and his lips are badly cut, as a result of an automobile accident on Richmond road near South Euclid yesterday morning. All three patients are in St. Marks hospital. An x-ray picture of Judge Treaseh's legs will be taken to determine the exact extent of the injuries.

Judge Treaseh, who was driving his own car, saw another motor turn into Richmond road. Realizing that without prompt action on his part collision was inevitable, he turned his car into a culvert and struck a telephone pole.

Dining Room Enjoyment

Tuesday Health Talk No. 44.
By G. C. DONOHOO, D. C.

Dining room enjoyment waits on appetite, but there are many ravenous who dare not eat. To these the dining room is like the entrance room to a palace of horrors.

Chronic indigestion sufferers are not all dietetic fools, nor gluttons. In fact a healthy stomach, barring abuse, gives no trouble. There are many to whom no change of diet, nor any restriction of quantity, makes much difference. They suffer just the same.

The cause of chronic stomach weakness of this character is pressure upon spinal nerves at "weak place" in the spine. A disturbance of the alignment of joints at this point causes pressure. The result is a stomach weakness that in some cases amounts almost to paralysis. Chiropractic spinal adjustments will restore alignment and remove the cause.

SUFFERED 20 YEARS FROM PILES AND STOMACH TROUBLE

"I suffered twenty years from chronic stomach trouble and piles. I tried all kinds of drugs, patent medicines and several doctors without permanent relief. In June, 1919, I started chiropractic. I was relieved of my stomach trouble and the piles showed a gradual improvement until well."—J. S. Lumbley, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1266L.

A new fund must be created in school districts to provide money for the teachers' retirement pensions, according to a ruling handed down by Attorney General John G. Price.

SOME RELIEF FROM TORRID HEAT COMES TO XENIA TUESDAY

Xenians found relief Tuesday in a clouded sun and a cooling breeze, from the hottest period in years.

With little variance, the mercury has been hovering near 100 degree mark for days, recording, according to weather bureau officials, the hottest June since 1914.

Seven years ago, the thermometer recorded 100 degrees. This June, the mercury has been just as ambitious, and the weather the last few days has caused the instruments to record from 96 to 100 every day.

Foreboding was seen in the hot spell for farmers until the rain of last week. Until then, farmers foresaw a possible drought which coupled with the burning sun of the last few days would have spelled disaster.

The brief showers of last week, although not relieving the heat, were life savers to the farmers. The hot weather even means much to them, as the extreme warmth, coupled with frequent showers, predicts a bumper corn crop.

BILL TO PREVENT SALE OF BEER IS SUPPORTED BY FESS

The Willis-Campbell bill to prevent the sale of beer to the sick, which passed the House Monday by a vote of 250 to 93, and which is expected to pass the Senate before the end of the week had the unqualified support of Congressman S. D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, representing this district.

The vote was 21 more than the necessary two-thirds and was taken after four hours of stormy debate, during which opponents of the bill charged that it had been drawn by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, which was denied by Congressman Fess.

Dr. Fess charged that the agitation for the sale of beer as a medicine, came not from the sick rooms, but from the brewery interests and less reputable physicians. In support of the bill he said:

"The insistence of the booze advocate for the privilege of beer through a policy of prescription clearly shows the extremity to which the people will go to indulge their appetites for liquor. For fifteen months prior to the Palmer ruling, which covers the period of prohibition regime, not a prescription was written for the use of beer as a medicine. Thirty-eight states had already made it unlawful. The state of Ohio took such action by a tremendous vote after the Palmer ruling had been made.

Must Have Permit. "Under the law no physician could prescribe distilled liquor without a permit. Seventy-eight percent of the 152,627 physicians in the United States make no application. Twenty-four states had already made it unlawful to prescribe distilled liquor as a medicine.

"Not until the Palmer ruling was there any contention for the use of beer as a medicine. On the other hand it had been repudiated by the vast aggregation of reputable physicians. It is not even listed as a medicine in the American Pharmacopoeia, the recognized authority in America. It is not included as a medicine in the reputable text books generally used throughout the medical schools. But on the other hand its use as such has been discontinued by the most eminent physicians, surgeons and scientists. It has been rejected by professors of medicine in 24 reputable medical colleges including the special research institutions for the medical advancement such as the Rockefeller institute, the Mayo foundation and other expert institutions. It was repudiated by the officers and members of the convention which revised the American Pharmacopoeia.

Beer Denounced. "Beer as a medicine was emphatically denounced by the druggists of the United States in national convention assembled in the following language: 'The executive committee of the national association of retail druggists of the United States desires to place on record their conviction that the manufacture and sale of beer and other malt liquors for medicinal purposes should not be permitted. Malt liquors have never been listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia as official medicinal remedies.'

"The demand for beer does not come from the sick chamber of the convalescent. Neither does it come from the physicians' office as it does not come from any distinguished authority on the science of medicine. It does come from the brewing interests under the guise of healing. It also comes from the advocates of beverage drinking. Its loudest call is from the habitues of the saloon.

"The proposed measure is necessary to prevent under the guise of medicine the flooding of the country with beer. Ommission of such measure will open again the beer drinking place through the agency of the prescription. The less reputable practitioner, who thinks more of booze than of cure, under the Palmer ruling can convert his office into a beer guzzling house where he can dole out through prescription by the bottle, the case or the keg as best suits his trade. The contention of these people is so bold that the purpose cannot be misunderstood. If they do not know now, they will soon discover that the American people have no patience with this contention. The saloon is an outlaw.

"Prohibition is law and under enforcement will become reality. I can only repeat what I recently said in Philadelphia. If such foolish contention as this last gasp of the booze advocates is not discontinued, this congress will make the country as dry as the Sahara desert."

MAN IS RELEASED FOLLOWING ARREST; CASE TO BE DROPPED

John Johnson, colored, of Cedarville was arrested by Sheriff Funderburg at Cedarville, Monday afternoon, following an investigation of the mysterious shooting of William Profit, 25, colored, of near Cedarville, who appeared at Police Headquarters Sunday night with a bullet wound through his left side.

Johnson was brought to this city Monday and questioned. Mrs. Profit, wife of the injured man was also questioned but both were released when it was found impossible to fix them with the crime. The .38 calibre revolver with which the shooting is said to have been done was found by the Sheriff hidden in an old barrel at the home of Alex Hall, colored, father-in-law of Profit, who lives near Cedarville.

Profit was removed from Police Headquarters where he had been under the care of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, to the home of a cousin in Cedarville, Monday. According to the story he told police, he was walking along the Columbus Pike near Cedarville between nine and ten o'clock Sunday evening, when he met his wife, from whom he is separated, riding in a buggy with John Johnson. He said the horse and the buggy in which they were riding was the property of the Profit woman, and that they were leading another horse and buggy.

Profit said that when the meeting took place, that hot words were exchanged, and that he pulled his revolver. He said there was a short scuffle, and the gun was discharged, the bullet striking him. Authorities were inclined at first to doubt the story because there were no powder marks on his clothes or body. They also had information that there were several shots fired instead of one, as Profit contended. The gun, when found, was empty.

Johnson told Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, who questioned him, that he did not see Profit. He said he met the Profit woman, and took her with him in his buggy, finally leaving her to return to Cedarville in his own buggy. He said after he had turned he heard shots, and speeding up his horse, continued on toward Cedarville. The story of neighbors seemed to corroborate that of Johnson, one man saying that Johnson passed his house when the last shot was fired. The Profit woman admitted being with Johnson, and said that when Johnson turned to go back to Cedarville, that Profit came along and began shooting at the departing buggy. She said that she struggled with him in an attempt to keep him from shooting. She said when the last shot rang out Profit exclaimed, "I have shot myself." She then accompanied him to the home of her father, Alec Hall, and Hall brought him to Cedarville. Authorities are inclined to believe the story of how the actual shooting took place, and the case will probably be dropped.

KENTUCKY GIRL WRITES LETTER

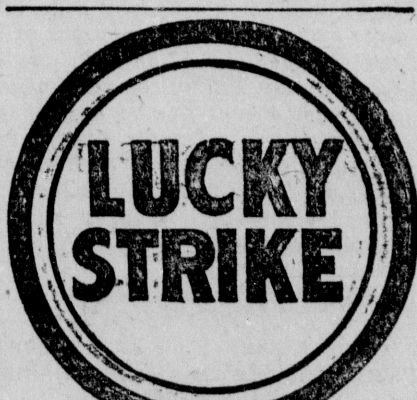

How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sunnyside, Ky.—"I suffered for more than two years with my back and nervousness, and was not able to help my mother do the housework. I took treatment from two doctors and they did not do me any good. Mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and I took about ten bottles. It has done me a great deal of good. I weigh 138 pounds and am in good health. I will gladly recommend Vegetable Compound to anyone who suffers with the troubles which I had, and you are welcome to publish my testimonial."

—VELMER HENDRICK, Route 1, Sunnyside, Ky.

To many American girls life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness, and every mother should heed the first manifestations, such as cramps, backaches, headaches and nervousness as Mrs. Hendrick did for her daughter, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a fair trial. For over forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been relieving women of just such troubles.

DAWES LIKELY TO SAVE BIG SUMS IN U. S. BUDGET.

By B. C. FORBES.

A man arrived in Washington yesterday whose work may mean a saving for every household in America—Charles G. Dawes, the new Director of the Budget.

The selection of this Chicago banker to install a budget system for the United States is hailed with satisfaction by financial and business men, first, because this colossal task urgently needs to be done expertly, and, second, because they know of the record Dawes has earned as a financier, an organizer, an administrator and a hustler.

He knows the Washington ropes and Washington financial ways, for he was Comptroller of the Currency. His handling of that office won him the presidency of the Central Trust Co., of Illinois, and his achievements in this position and also in connection with the work of the United States Purchasing Board, organized in France during the war, have stamped him as an executive who knows how to get things done on a large scale expeditiously and efficiently.

There were certain men General Pershing drew around him whom he learned to depend upon implicitly. Dawes was one of them. Before Dawes became associated with the work the arrangement for purchasing supplies for the American expeditionary forces in Europe were faulty, not to say chaotic. Dawes promptly tackled the whole complicated problem, enlisted as lieutenants a number of brainy young Americans of business training and soon had things moving more smoothly. One form which recognition of this work took was his promotion to the rank of brigadier general, and he was also honored by the French Government.

It was characteristic of Dawes to announce within an hour of his talk with President Harding yesterday that he had decided upon the men who would be drafted as his chief assistants. It was also characteristic of him to declare that he would conscript brainy business volunteers to help him in organizing real machinery for producing a national budget, since, as he said, "Only four men are given me under the law; one might as well be handed a toothpick with which to tunnel Pikes Peak."

The new budget director's directness of method is reflected by his directness of speech. Inasmuch as the preparation of a national budget on businesslike lines is recognized by financial and business men as a task of momentous importance, affecting every man, woman and child in the land, it may be accepted as certain that Dawes will encounter little difficulty in getting men of the first caliber.

LAST FRIDAY, JUNE 24th, THE HOTTEST DAY IN FIFTY YEARS.

A couple of years ago, in Sacramento, Cal., we wanted a thermometer, and started out to find one, but were astonished to find no such thing kept at several hardware stores, and had difficulty in finding the article. Queer, we thought, until we happened to remember that they had no use for thermometers—the temperature varying so little that nobody cared to note the change.

Think of that, ye pessimists about our country—California is a great empire by itself, yet part of our glorious nation.

Well, we sure have use for the thermometer in some sections—as for instance in the north, when the mercury goes to the bottom of the tube and the coal bill to the top—or like last Friday, when it reached the limit, on our back porch, in the opposite direction, 96 in the shade. We had no recollection of like figures. We certainly knew it was a "scorching."

Now comes the proof. The Philadelphia Public Ledger says that Friday afternoon, June 24th, in that city, with the mercury nearly 96, was the hottest 24th of June in fifty years. The Ledger of Saturday adds:

"Although yesterday was a 'scorching,' it was not so uncomfortable as Wednesday when the thermometer read 94 degrees. That was due to the fact that the humidity was not so intense. The humidity at 9 o'clock yesterday morning registered 65, while at 1 o'clock it had dropped to 58, and a cooling breeze was stirred up frequently. Nevertheless there was no skating reported on the Fairmount Park lakes yesterday."

The dictionary definition of "humidity" states it as "the amount of vapor or dampness or moisture in the air, when expressed as to the number of grams of moisture per cubic foot of air." The common, everyday feeling about it, however, is expressed in the feeling of the "stickiness" of the atmosphere. This heat is felt most forcibly by persons of asthmatic tendency. Some such here have had a serious time in the last few days. It is bad enough for any of us, but when a person cannot get his breath he is surely in a pitiable condition.

KING GEORGE OPENS PARLIAMENT WITH CONCILIATION PLEA.

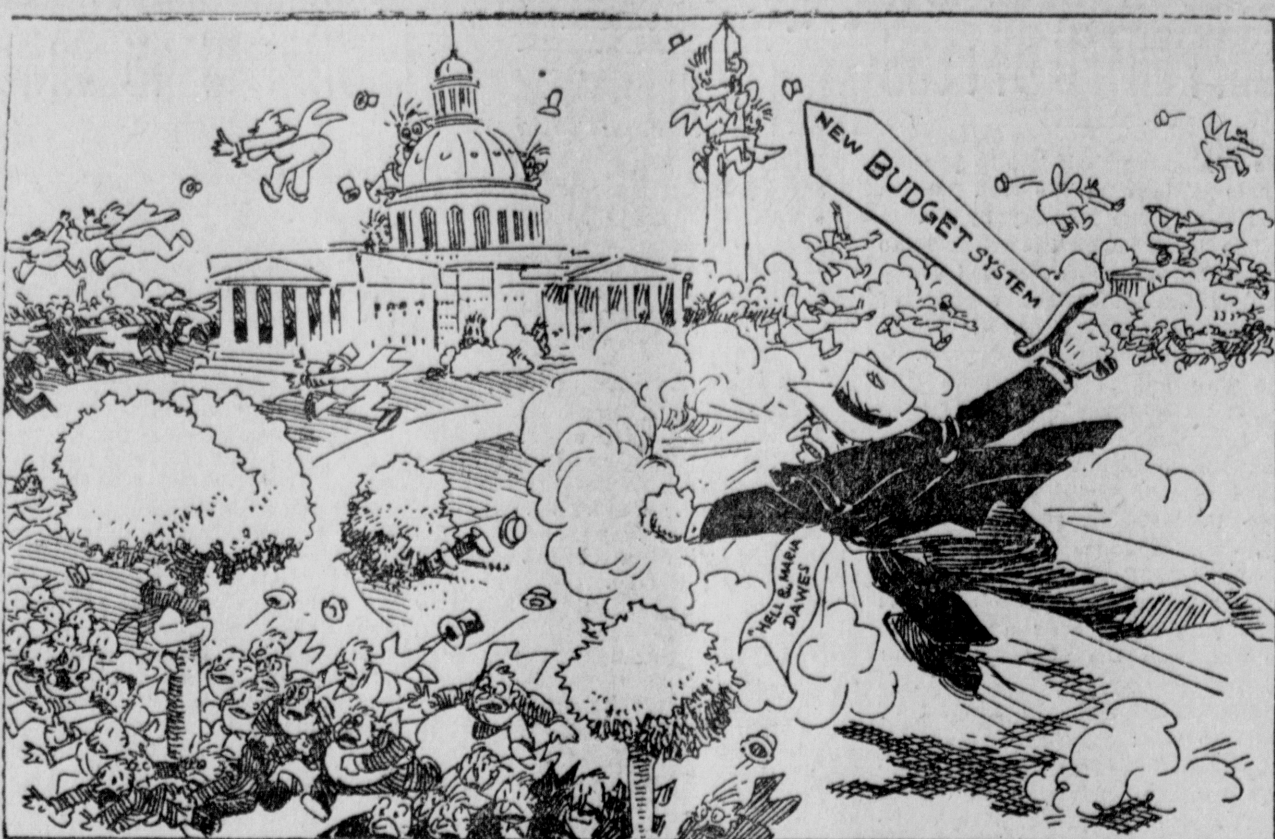

At noon in fair weather and without any untoward incident King George formally opened the Ulster Parliament, thus achieving at last a partition of Ireland into its two component parts—the Catholic South, and the Protestant North.

In his speech the King declared that the entire English-speaking world was longing to see the Irish problem satisfactorily solved. He expressed the hope that the South would follow where the North had pointed the way and that ultimately North and South would be found working together, either under one Parliament or two, as those Parliaments might themselves decide, upon a common foundation of justice and respect.

For the moment the South shows little sign of falling in with these hopes, but the effect on the Irish mind of the accomplished fact of the Ulster Parliament has yet to be observed. It is not a question of what the people of the South will accept, but of what the Sinn Fein leaders will accept.

A thoroughly modern note was struck by the King's speech, which he read in a strong clear voice, emphasizing the points which he wished to impress on the audience. His plea for peace and conciliation between the two branches of the Irish race fell on welcome ears, for in no part of Ireland is peace more desired than in Ulster, where business has suffered greatly by the strife throughout the country and by the Sinn Fein boycott of Ulster goods.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

There never has been a time when conditions changed so quickly—when life bettered itself so consistently—when the inventive mind turned so readily to new things that better fill old needs.

New conveniences and comforts are coming in all the time. And the conditions under which all things are made and sold are subject to frequent alteration.

The rapidity of modern commercial evolution vitally affects us all. And especially it affects the purchasing power of our money.

Whether you buy little or much, in order to buy intelligently, you must keep yourself informed. You must know not only the goods, the styles, the varieties and the price, but you must also know where the goods are to be had.

There is only one way in which you can keep your information up to the minute.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper. Merchants and manufacturers are advertising in this newspaper for your benefit as well as their own.

The advertisements are messages from the business world to you. They tell you what is now in markets and stores. They inform you of all that the world of invention and discovery is doing to make your work easier, your home life more pleasant, your clothing and food problems less difficult.

Furthermore you can trust what they tell you.

The manufacturer or merchant who is not sure of his goods does not dare to advertise. Advertising would hasten the end of his business career—put him to a test he could not meet.

On the other hand, the man who advertises deliberately invites your inspection. He tells you about his products or his merchandise and then lets it stand on its own merits. You can depend on him. He knows his product is good.

That's another reason why it pays you to read the advertisements you find in the columns of this paper. It is through advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you. Advertisements are interesting, instructive and profitable. They throw a powerful light on the very things that concern you most. Read them daily and reap the advantages which they bestow.

TWO OUTSTANDING CANDIDATES FOR DRY COMMISSION JOB

Columbus, O., June 27.—The two outstanding candidates for the Ohio Dry commissionership are former Congressman J. E. Russell, of Sidney and George Stoughton of Westerville, the home of the Anti-Saloon League.

Mr. Russell has been a power in Republican politics in the Fourth Congressional District for a number of years. He was the first Republican ever elected to the State Senate from his district and while a member of the Senate he had a large part in the passage of the Rose Local Option bill, which made him an outstanding figure in dry legislation in the early days of the movement.

In 1914 Mr. Russell was elected to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District, the first Republican to be elected to the National House from this Democratic strong hold.

GIVES RULING ON INSURANCE BENEFITS

War Risk Insurance, that is, term or contract insurance, issued by the Government as a war-time measure under the provisions of the War Risk Act, is payable to the beneficiary designated by the insured, but, should this beneficiary die the installments of insurance becoming payable after his death shall be distributed in like manner as the estate of the insured, descending to the soldier's heirs and not the heirs of the beneficiary no matter whether a will may have been executed by that beneficiary to the contrary.

This is the substance of the decision handed down by Federal Judge Whitmer in the case of Cassarelli vs United States recently tried in the District Court of the United States, Scranton, Pennsylvania.

AN XENIA MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Xenia papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Xenia people that will not be easily shaken.

H. M. Rontzong, Fairground View, Xenia, says: "For several years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I have had any symptoms of kidney disorder and I have had excellent results. My kidneys became inflamed and when I bent over, I could hardly straighten up. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, helped me in a few days. UNLUCKY DAYS.

Some days the luck is all against us; misfortune with barbed wire has fenced us. At early morn we leave our couches, and feel possessed of grievous grouches; we step upon a tack on rising, and hand out language most surprising, such adjectives as start pink blisters upon the eardrums of our sisters. We do no smiling and no joking; the breakfast's late, the stove is smoking; the soft boiled eggs are hard as thunder, the biscuits are an asphalt wonder. And when we leave our homes, proceeding to daily tasks, our bosoms bleeding, our bald and beastly luck continues; we fall a block and sprain some sinews; an auto hits us with its fender and leaves us bruised and sore and tender; and all the bores we have been shunning come round us now, and come a-running; and soon we note with ire and loathing that rain has spoiled our new spring clothing; and bill collectors sternly trail us, and threaten they will sue and jail us. We meet all accidents that bore most, and everything is hind end foremost. You've known such days, and did you weaken and let the briny tears start leakin'? Or did you rear on end serenely, with grace and dignity most queenly, and say, "Though fate be raw and clammy, I'll show that I am Sunny Sammy?"

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Betty B.—Keep your legs and feet looking neat and forget about their size. Never allow your shoes to be run down at the heels, or to go unpolished. Wear the fashionable length skirts and your neighbors will probably accept it also.

A Reader.—When a young man says that he is glad to have met you, the proper and also the natural thing to do is to thank him as if you meant what you said. No, it is not proper for a young girl to start a conversation with a strange man on the street, even if they are both waiting for a car.

If you will send an addressed stamped envelope I shall be pleased to send you directions about your hair.

Mrs. M. S.—The cream is not in the market, but you can easily make it or have the druggist do it for you. Send an addressed stamped envelope for directions.

A Subscriber.—If the warts are large enough, you can tie a piece of white silk around each one, which will cause them to dry up and drop off in a few days. A horse hair is sometimes used for this purpose, but it should be sterilized first. The smaller ones may be reduced by using gentle friction, either with pumice stone or the powdered pumice.

G. A.—As your breath seems worse in the mornings, it shows that your digestion causes it. Drink more water and take advantage of a change in diet at this season, substituting the green vegetables for the starchy ones. A salad of dandelion greens is an excellent thing.

A Reader.—The exercise of going up and down stairs will develop the hips, abdomen and legs. It will also quicken the entire circulation, as it induces greater action with the heart, requiring deeper breathing to oxygenize the blood. The strength of the heart should decide how much of this exercise is proper.

Dolly.—If you can curl your hair without heat, it is always better, but with hair oily as yours, such moderate use of the iron will not injure it. However, that oily condition is not healthy; massage a good tonic into the scalp twice a week, but massage it every night until the muscles tingle from the increased circulation.

Discouraged.—The electric needle is the only treatment which will kill the hair at the roots. The charges vary, but you can enquire of any beauty parlor about this. You did not make the growth worse by pulling out these coarse hairs. It is the proper thing to do until you can get rid of them entirely by means of electric treatment.

Columbus, O., June 27.—Never in the history of Ohio has any legislature passed a bill with such a wide humanitarian scope as the Mother's Pension Law, which was unanimously spread on the statute books at the last session. It makes the good mothers of Ohio who have been victims of misfortune, wards of the state and its provisions will keep many a little family intact which otherwise would be separated by the members being sent to different institutions.

Credit for this forward piece of legislation is due largely to the far-seeing of Judge Homer Z. Bostwick, of the Franklin County Probate Court. The plan which was finally unanimously enacted into law was advanced by Judge Bostwick in Zanesville in the fall of 1920.

At a meeting of judges there, Judge Bostwick told delegates that the pensions granted mothers was inadequate to meet the responsibility of the state in cases where aid is needed. He pointed out that the pensions granted had, in many instances, kept the wolf from the door and aided in keeping it from the door. But, he pointed out, the benefit accruing did not cover a wide enough scope. He contended that it was not only humanitarian but a saving to political subdivisions to raise the pension allowance so that unfortunates could maintain themselves in their own homes rather than to be cast upon the bounty of counties where their upkeep would be necessary in county and state institutions.

This new law, which goes into effect this month is considered as a great victory, not only for Judge Bostwick, who thought out the plan but for the state at large which has finally come to the realization of its duty and obligation to its mothers.

The first Ohio law provided that aid might be extended to mothers whose husbands were dead, disabled or delinquent in a sum not exceeding $15 a month for one child and not exceeding $7 a month for each additional child.

Then came the era of high prices. Even before this commercial stage was reached, the allowances were mere pittance.

In order that the public might know what was being accomplished under the mothers' pension law, the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense made a survey for the year 1918. The findings were rather startling.

At the end of that year there said.

were 4,695 pensions in effect in 86 of the 88 counties. In all, $685,630 was available to meet the needs of these 5,695 families. These pensions ranged from $1.37 per month in Jackson county to $28 in Cuyahoga county.

How worthy mothers in dire need of assistance were able to keep their little families together upon such allowances will possibly never be known. A few cents a day purchased a very small amount of food during the war and after the war period.

Recommendations were made and active support was given by the various socially inclined organizations to raise the maximum allowance to $35 a month for one child and $15 for each additional child. The 83rd assembly somehow failed to subscribe to this increase. But the last assembly enacted it without debate or change.

Now 40 of the 48 states of the union have mothers' pension systems in effect. The benefits cannot be measured in treasure or human life. But the savings secured thru keeping these unfortunate families out of the various benevolent institutions amount to millions annually.

WILMINGTON COLLEGE HAS RECORD LIST

Wilmington, June 27.—The summer school at Wilmington College has reached the highwater mark in enrollment, 260 having registered for the summer term. The registration is still incomplete, President J. Edwin Jay announces and may yet reach 275.

Every dormitory at the college is full, with about 200 in private homes in the city. The dining hall, although recently remodeled and enlarged is now entirely too small to accommodate the summer enrollment.

Chapel exercises will not be held in the chapel hall in the main building but will be held in the Yearly Meeting auditorium so that all students may attend.

A summer faculty of 20 instructors has been formed, President Jay said.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

THE GARMENT OF LOVE

The misunderstanding world places importance upon dress. Our bodies are clothed with coverings that reflect individual taste, periodic style or type. And these things change.

Our forefathers wore knickerbockers and wigs, and our foremothers wore hoop skirts and laces of exquisite, designs and workmanship. We would look very funny indeed in our generation walking down our crowded streets dressed thus.

This material arrangement which we give our walking selves touches only our eye or sense of mind.

There is another dress entirely invisible—which all mankind wears, but its peculiar make-up is rarely discussed. In vital feeling, however, does it none the less exist. For want of a better way of expressing it, I shall call this dress our — garment of love.

And with it no other raiment may compare.

We walk to our business with it. We stroll our streets, we sit at our desks, we eat, sleep, and work with it clinging ever about us. We know that it is there. Sometimes it warms us, but at other times we feel lonely and cold from its covering—no maker yet has conceived a way to make this imperishable garment in such a way as fully to satisfy the craving soul which it enwraps.

When it is new there, are thrills to it that brighten the eye and lift the heart as does the longed-for toy which the child handles with its eager fingers.

By many it is worn for long years, and there is a growth of tender affection about it that feeds the senses as does a lowering sun playing hide-and-seek among opalled clouds just as the day begins to drowse away.

Sometimes, because of the fit, or the coloring, or the style, people change this garment.

But it must be worn by everybody, at some time or other, or else life withers away and becomes a very weary and discouraged affair.

For this is the only garment that Heaven appraises! God alone may understand the soiled places of it, the mended breaks, the old-fashioned fit of it, or its faded hues. And in His inexplicable way, He leads the man or woman who wears it proudly and well through all the rough ways of a world that trips us all up so often.

If you suffer pains and aches during the day and sleep-disturbing bladder weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder need to be restored to healthy and regular action. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me so much that now I am well." Don't delay Sayre & Hemphill. adv

OHIO WILL BE HOST TO GRANGERS FROM STATE OF MICHIGAN

Columbus, June 27.—And now Michigan is coming to Ohio to learn how.

Shortly after August 1, it was announced yesterday, 500 members of the Michigan grange, with their wives and families, will make an auto tour of Ohio, with side trips into western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia. It's going to be a real camping party from start to finish. Two hundred automobiles will be used in the tour and a complete camp outfit for all will be carried.

It is planned to move at the rate of about 60 to 100 miles a day, stopping over at city parks or fair grounds for camping places. The Michiganders will be accompanied by a number of officers of the Ohio State Grange and several farm bureau leaders. A complete movable electric light plant and several trucks will carry the heavy baggage of the tourists.

The first camp to be pitched in Ohio will be at Norwalk, Aug. 9. Aug. 10, the party will be in Cleveland; Aug. 12 at Akron, stopping that night in Salem. Here they will leave Ohio temporarily, going to Pittsburgh and Wheeling, W. Va., returning to Zanesville on the 18th.

On Friday the 19th of August the Michiganders will reach Columbus and camp on the state fair grounds. Saturday afternoon a grange and farm bureau rally will be held there. George B. Horton and A. B. Cook, will speak for Michigan, and Murray Lincoln and L. J. Taber for Ohio. In addition the Franklin County Pomona Grange and Farm Bureau and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce will be asked to participate. Hon. Sherman J. Lowell, master of the national grange will be in Ohio, Aug. 4, 5 and 6, for three monster grange rallies.

Nunlist or the old Nunlist hotel property in Tippencanoe City, which has been closed since 1915, but it will be reopened by Mr. Taylor under the management of an experienced hotel man. It is said that the purchase price was $15,000.

The building is a three story brick containing 22 guest rooms and four business rooms on the first floor. It has a frontage on Main street of 142 feet and is one of the most desirable locations in Tippencanoe City.

As soon as repairs are made the hotel will be reopened.

BLACKBERRIES ARE NOW RIPENING

Blackberries are ripening rapidly and true to the first predictions there will be a bumper crop. The so-called "tame" berries are bearing now and others are beginning to turn red. Farmers say that they believe that the bushes are the fullest they have been in years and if the weather conditions are right the crop will be one of the largest.

Nerv-Worth Famous Tonic Back to Normalcy, $1.00

Famous Family Tonic and Stomach Remedy Reduced in Price to Meet Popular Demand for Pre-War Conditions.

Nerv-Worth—the famous tonic, stomach remedy and health builder—has gone back to pre-war price of $1.00 a bottle—the same big bottle, 20 per cent larger than the others selling for more. No change has been made in the formula. The cost of manufacture is higher than in 1917, but the owners of Nerv-Worth are going along with the procession of patriotic business men of the country who declare that to return to prosperity everyone must make sacrifices and get the prices back of normalcy, so Nerv-Worth is sold by all Druggists hereafter at $1.00. Nerv-Worth has been endorsed by preachers, lawyers, doctors, druggists and people from nearly all the walks of life. What could be more convincing than such a statement as the above, coming as it does from a minister of the gospel? It aids digestion whets the appetite, neutralizes acids, drives off gases, gives nerve force, drives out impurities, and tones and invigorates the whole system. If you suffer from any of these troubles or their attending ills, get a bottle of Nerv-Worth and let it do for you what it has done for thousands in rebuilding health. Sold on a money-back guarantee at all leading drug stores everywhere.

DINNER STORIES

"George," said his wife, sitting up suddenly in bed, "there's a burglar in the house. Listen!"

"A burglar?" George sat up, too. "Yes. I can hear him distinctly crossing the floor of the room below. Now (excitedly) he's lighting one of those cigars I gave you for Christmas. I heard him pick up the box and put it down again." "By Jove, Mary, you're right," George answered. "He is. He's actually smoking one of those—er—those cigars."

Then he snuggled once more comfortably between the blanket. "Go to sleep, Mary," he said complacently. "We'll find the poor wretch in the morning."

Six-year-old Margaret often played with Nellie, a neighbor's little girl. One rainy day the two were just starting across the clean kitchen floor at Margaret's home when the latter's mother, seeing their muddy shoes, headed them off and sent them out to play on the porch. After a moment Nellie returned.

"My mother don't care how much I run over the kitchen floor," there was quite a long interval of silence. Then Margaret said: "I wish I had a nice dirty mother like you've got, Nellie."

"To see ourselves as others see us would, as the poet suggests, cause us to think things over." "Perhaps," replied Miss Cayenne. "But it doesn't seem to make much of an impression on some of the motion picture stars."

"You baggage smashers seem to handle things more gingerly than you used to," remarked the traveling salesman.

"If we don't," said the station agent, "we find it is likely to leak."

The rope that held the scaffolding had all parted. One strand saved the luckless Clancy on the platform from being dropped to the pavement many stories below. While the foreman and his aids were rushing feverishly hither and thither seeking a ladder something slipped from Clancy's hip pocket and crashed onto the sidewalk. With a wail he turned up toward the roof, where his comrades were hanging onto the last strand: "Hey, Mike," he bellowed, "get an axe and cut the rope!"

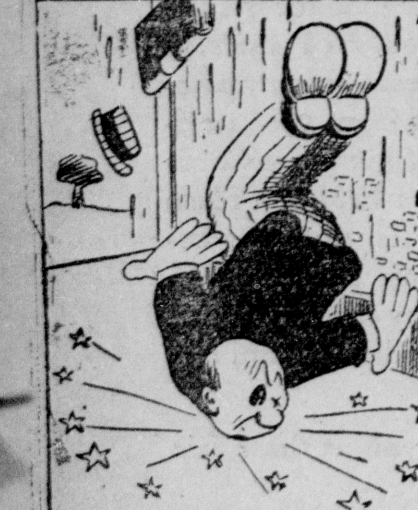

"Ethel," he whispered, "will you marry me?" "I don't know, Charlie," she replied coyly. "Well, when you find out," he said, rising, "send me word, will you? I shall be at Mabel Hick's until 10 o'clock. If I don't hear from you by then, I am going to ask her."

She hurried up.

A six-year-old boy the other evening was busy cutting out "paper animals" and as he played he kept repeating to himself, "Fleas is white, fleas is white." His older brother grew tired of hearing it and said: "Where do you get that?" Very emphatically he answered: "At school. Mary had a little lamb, its fleas is white as snow."

SIX YEAR OLD GIRL IS WONDER AT CHESS

Frank B. Patrick, of Urbana, former city editor of the Gazette, and chess champion of Ohio for several years, is greatly interested in Celia Niemark, six-year-old girl of West Austintown, Ohio, who bids fair to become a child wonder at the game.
Celia has beaten all of the best players around West Austintown, and her fame grew until she was invited to membership in the Youngstown Chess and Checker Club, and is known by the members as "The Queen of the Chess Board." Mr. Patrick recently played the little girl at chess, and beat her one game. She was heartily overwhelmed and cried, until he told her that he had been chess champion of Ohio for several years. A short time afterward he sent her the chess book. On the inside cover is written, "To Celia Niemark, the best lady chess player I have ever met over the board."

I. K. "In making custard pie I now and then have trouble with the crust, which pops up even though I pat it down well. What causes this?"

Answer: You should perforate the crust well with a fork before baking.
This allows the steam to escape—otherwise it will puff up the crust.

A Reader: "Please tell me how to make pecan marshmallows (they are like small cookies topped with marshmallow and pecans)."

Answer: Pecan-Marshmallows Cookies: Beat the yolks of 2 eggs till thick add 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup pecan nut meats, whites of 2 eggs stiffly beaten, and 6 tablespoons flour sifted with a few grains of salt. Drop this batter from the tip of a spoon on a buttered cookie sheet, spread to make a level surface, and put on each cookie very finely-cut marshmallows (cut them with scissors), then put a half-pecan on each cookie. Bake in a moderate oven.

Bride-to-be: "How far ahead of the wedding are the invitations sent out?
And where there is a parent and sons and daughters in the same family will one invitation include all? Kindly give a menu for a buffet wedding luncheon."

Answer: Wedding invitations are issued not later than 15 days before the wedding and not earlier than four weeks. A separate invitation should be sent to each unmarried member of a family. Serve small biscuits, cream chicken, fruit salad, wedding cake coffee and ices.

Miss E. C. "Please help us plan a working schedule. My mother and father both work in the shop, and I am 14 and my sister 11 years old.
What should we do each day to divide the home duties."

Answer: The Mother's Schedule is: Get breakfast for entire family and lunch up her own and her husband's lunch before going to shop. At night she should return home and lie down at once, then sit down to dinner (which the elder daughter is preparing); after dinner she washes the dishes. On Saturday afternoon she will clean some part of the house.

The Elder Daughter's Schedule is:
Make her own and parents beds; wash breakfast dishes; go to school; return at noon and get a light lunch for herself and little sister (leaving the dishes unwashed); return to school (unless she be in high school, with no afternoon session); after school she will clean one room; (each day taking a different room), and, with her little sister's help, will get the dinner.

Little Sister's Schedule is: Make her own bed, dust the living room; go to school; help big sister get the lunch at noon; return to school; in the P. M., after school, she will wash the luncheon dishes while big sister cleans a room, and will help with the dinner-getting.

The Father's Schedule is: Take care of furnace ashes in winter and of garden in summer, working in the evenings. Do repairing about house.

The older daughter will have to understand enough about the furnace to regulate it during the day in the absence of her father. On Sunday afternoons will do the cooking to give her children a rest. The marketing will have to be done entirely by the older daughter, who will stop on her way home from school to buy meat and small things (heavy foods must be delivered in the afternoons, when daughter is home). Mother will make out menus for the week each Sunday, leaving recipes for the foods mentioned.

VERA TALKS WITH KEITH'S MOTHER

Chapter 79

I was racked with indecision.
Mother Sanderson was coming home in a few days. Should I appeal to her, or not about Keith's intimacy with Alice De Lisle, but to beg her to use her influence once again to get me a home of my own, however simple? Or should I make Keith jealous and so work on his feelings that he would be willing to promise me a home? Then came the startling thought suppose instead of making him jealous, I should simply be making it possible for him to rid himself of me and marry Mrs. De Lisle? Or of giving Margaret a chance to make him send me away?

I decided to go to mother Sanderson.

Tom Benedict was my devoted admirer. He had not been able to hide —perhaps he had not tried—that he was becoming very fond of me. Not that there was a thought of wrong in either of us, but we were both young, craved companionship, and happiness—and we found it when together.

I decided to have a talk with Mother before I said a word more to Keith. He had said I might visit her so I would have every opportunity for a good long talk with her.

While Keith had been away Tom Benedict had often dropped in to tea, and twice I had played cards with him at Erma's Margaret knew nothing of this, but she openly sneered at what she called his "calf love" and threatened to tell Keith:

"Do, it will surely worry him because a have written him every time anyone called, and who." Margaret looked furious. I had swept the ground from under her feet as far as telling of Tom was concerned.

At first I had thought I would let Margaret carry out her threat so that Keith would be jealous, but the more I thought of it, the less likely did I think it would affect him that way. I loved him. I wanted no one else. So why risk putting into his and Margaret's hands anything they could use against me?

Two days after Keith came home, and four days after I had over heard him tell Margaret that it was her fault he had not married Alice De Lisle, I took June and went down to Mother Sanderson's for a week.

Keith took us down—he was to remain overnight then he would come at the end of the week and take us home. He had matters at the factory to attend to each time, aside from his desire to see his mother.

I never shall forget how delighted I was when Mother first saw June, and the way she fussed over her.
Margaret paid my baby no attention whatever, unless it was to complain of something she did or the way she was dressed. But Mother cooed over her, petted and loved her so that I almost cried I was so happy.

I put off my talk until the day Keith was to come for me. It had been such a happy time I hated to even speak of anything that might bring argument. But at last I ventured to say:

"Mother, will you try to put yourself in my place if I talk to you of something I am not finding fault with Keith. I think you know I love him more than ever now that I have baby. But I must talk to someone."

"Go on, dear child. I will try to remember that I was once young." She smiled so sweetly at me that my eyes filled.

I started from the beginning. I told her of many episodes, I tried to be fair to Margaret and often stopped my story to insert something she did that was done better than I possibly could have done it.

But I told of my feelings that I was an absolute nonentity in the house although Keith paid over half of the expenses. I told of Martha being taken from me, and that I was not allowed to call upon the maids for anything. I confessed the hurt I had when not permitted to choose my own clothes. I spoke of the motor. Keith paid for it, paid the garage charges, but in all the time I had been married I had used it just twice. I rode in it when Keith and Margaret were along, I told her, but to take Erma or my young friends out, to use when I needed to go out, that had not been allowed.

"You should have insisted upon taking the car if Keith pays for it.
Mother told me, encouraging me to go on."

I told her everything save the one thing that made me most unhappy—Keith's friendship for Alice De Lisle.
Even to her I could not speak of that—not for a while.

"It is hard, dear child, to advise you. I know of the strange influence Margaret has had upon Keith.
When they were children it worried me. Keith has a will of his own in other things, but where his sister is concerned he is plastic. But I agree with you. You should have a home of your own. I would insist upon your remaining with me, at least for a time, you and baby, but it would not be wise. Margaret would have too free a hand. She must learn that she cannot rule Keith. How you can show her this I do not know. But in some way it must be done if you are to be happy. I will talk to Keith about a home for you."
